Local marina wins the state's top prize: Marina of the Year 2019

Little Elm, TX: 10/21/2019, Cottonwood Creek Marina, a family-owned marina has taken home the state's top prize, Marina of the Year 2019. The prize was awarded to Ryan Miller, General Manager of Cottonwood Creek Marina, on October 8, 2019 by the Marina Association of Texas, a non-profit, volunteer-led organization that works to improve, protect, and advance the interest of the marina industry in Texas.

Cottonwood Creek Marina knows that value of making memories and that, combined with a culture rooted in customer service, are a few of the things that helped them rise above the competition. "We were thrilled when we heard the news," said Ryan.

"We're a family-friendly marina through and through. Some of my favorite memories growing up are those long summer afternoons on the water. We want to give similar experiences to kids growing up in a digital age. Thanks to the phenomenal staff here at Cottonwood Creek Marina, we provide just that."

Cottonwood Creek Marina knows something about making memories on the water, it has been their unofficial slogan since opening in 2003. When asked what was in store for summer 2020, Ryan said, "that's a fun question because of course the industry, technology, and boating in general are always changing, and yet, through all that, there's something uniquely low-tech about the fun you can have on a tube being pulled behind a boat or the calmness in a quiet cove at sunrise... so hopefully a lot more of that."
